MANY ESTATES FOR PROBATE

Will Go to Son Now in New Mexico. -

The estate of Helen E. Kelsey, the schooltencher who committed suicide about two months ago, is before the circuit court, and letters of administra tion have been issued to Henry E. Kel sey of Maui, her bother.

Mrs. Kelsey's estate is valued at $2200, and consists chiefly of a lot in Claremont, California, and one in Pa lolo valley, besides her personal effects. The brother is named in the will as ex-Theodore Kelsey, her only son, who is Paul Super, at present in a military school at Roswell, New Mexico. He was going to that place at the time his mother shot her self on the porch of the Cental Grammar School.

Another schoolteacher's estate, that of Louisa Brownscombe Brickwood, who died lately, has also come before the probate court. The petition for letters of administration is presented by Walter M. Giffard, he and Henry Holmes being named executors in the will. Her the league, and referred in particular mother, Louise Brickwood, is named as to W. A. Bowen, leader of the friendbeing named executors in the will. Her sole heir to the estate, which is valued at $12,500.

in court. The estate of Carl H. A. L. Ahlborn again came before the court for the appointment of a temporary administrator.

The petition, which was presented by F. Klamp, resulted in the appointment of W. F. Pfotenbauer to that position The action was made necessary by reason of interest on some notes coming due and also dividends on some stock. The value of the estate is placed at $200,000, and represents that portion of it which is in Hawaii. Ahlborn was a resident of and died in Germany, where his largest interests lie.

Accounts Approved.

Another probate matter to be acted upon was the thirteenth annual accounts of the trustees of the Bernice P. Bishop Museum, which were favorably reported by Job Batchelor. This is practically all that is necessary, as the approval of the judge is based on that of the master in the case.

New Citizens.

There are three new citizens in Ha waii today, and King Edward of Great Britain is minus three subjects by the same token. Samuel Henry Randolph Fursey was the first to take the oath of allegiance to Uncle Sam, and he was followed by John Richardson and George McIntosh, Conspiracy.

For attempting to buy a woman at the really cheap price of $100, Hoshi, a Japanese, yesterday went on trial in the United States district court. He was originally codefendant with two others, who both pleaded guilty yesterday, leaving their companion to face the music. Those who pleaded guilty were Hisikiehi Yoki and Hikataro Kodama. One is the father of the woman, Matsu Kodama, who was to be sold, and the other the husband. They had it all nicely framed up and the sale was almost pau when the authorities stuck an inquisitive nose into the proceedings and called a halt. The husband would have become the "grantor" and Hoshi the "grantee" had the deal gone through. To Highest Court.

Foiled in her attempts to secure a release for her husband from the insane asylum, Mrs. Mary Atcherley yester-day took steps to carry her case to the United States Supreme Court, before which exalted body it will appear in due time. The case goes up on a writ of error from the decree of the territorial supreme court, and she will claim that her husband has not had due process of law, and several other things. She still maintains her charges of conspiracy on the part of the attorney general, Mott-Smith, and half the doc tors of the Territory, including Doctor Peterson of the insane asylum. claims that when the board of insanity last went to examine Doctor Atcherley in his room at the lastnamed institution Doctor Peterson removed the pills of belladonna she claims is being fed to him in the guise of opium. They do this, she says, to drive him crazy, that being the tendency of the drug, and so place him out of the way in pursuance of their "nefarious schemes."

MEN'S LEAGUE

That of the Late Helen Kelsey Good Reports of Past Year's Work and Promise of Renewed Efforts to Come.

> The second annual dinner of the Men's League of Central Union church was held last evening, following which new officers for the season of 1909-1910 were elected as follows:

W. F. Dillingham, president; P. L. Horne, vice-chairman; I. H. Beadle, secretary; R. R. Reidford, treasurer, and councilors at large, Judge George W. Woodruff, Dr. W. C. Hobdy, J. P. ecutor, and the devisee and legatee is Cooke, S. DeFreest, W. J. Forbes and

The supper was served in the parish house and was largely attended. The supper was a delightful introduction to the more serious business of the even ing. The large attendance attested to the fact that the league is an institu-J. P. Cooke's report for the first year was full of statistics of the organization of the league. He spoke particularly of the work of the sections which direct the various activities of ship section, who had achieved such remarkable success through his genial manners. The civic section was also one which had achieved success. It Probate matters were about all in had brought matters before the legis-which new proceedings were instituted lature and made its influence felt. Of the midweek section, the president stated that the large attendance was due to efforts of the leader, Ed Towse. Mr. Towse later spoke of the work done for the midweek meetings. He said there were two elements to con said there were two elements to con-sider. The old conservative attend-ants were of the old New England school, who desired only the old-fash-ioned prayer meeting. There was the younger element, which desired a literary program in addition to the prayer meeting. Both elements, however, har-monized, and the work of the section was going ahead satisfactorily.

Mr. Bowen, for the friendship league, spoke of the methods used to a tract young men to the church, to make it their church home. He spoke of a thousand or more invitations which had been sent out to new people. A. L. Castle's report for the civic section had the suggestion that for the new year the club should devote its energies to subjects more national in scope, rather than to confine itself to local subjects altogether.

A. Wilder, of the Bible representation section, stated that for the new year he had a number of persons enlisted and would probably give a representation in December, the subject being "Moses, the Liberator." Mr. Frazier, for the Bible class, and Will Love, for the musical section, reported that much progress had been made during the season during the season.

Doctor Hobdy spoke on fighting the white plague. He presented an array of figures so convincing that the audience was visibly moved by his pre-sentation of the subject which is attracting more attention from govern-ments as well as medical men. Doctor Hobdy has an excellent delivery, pre-sents his subject clearly and concisely, and in a thoroughly interesting man-ner. He said that the cause of oneseventh to one-tenth of all deaths was tuberculosis. Of the 100,000,000 of inhabitants in the United States to be listed at the coming census 10,000,000 would die of tuberculosis. Tuberculosis has been known from 1500 B. C., when Moses gave it as a curse upon the peo-ple. Upon the cuneiform bricks of Chaldean cities are found inscriptions telling of tuberculosis. One-third of all between fifteen and forty-four death years of age are caused by consumption. There is no race under the sun that does not suffer from the disease. It is particularly true of the American Indians, the negroes and unfortunately of the Hawaiian race. In the United States it costs the government about $250,000,000. The United States has a trained corps of men to fight the intro-duction into the ports of yellow fever, cholera, plague, smallpox, typhus and leprosy, but all of these combined never made such ravages as tuberculosis. Expectoration on the streets is the first cause of spreading the disease. It is carried by dust to other victims. It is not necessary, he said, to tell this to an intelligent audience, but the first duty is to go into the schools and begin upon children and teach them not to spit in public places. If a man won't stop spitting on the street he should be made to. If necessary the government should be asked to pass an antispitting law, but no doubt this would be objected to on the ground that it might be unconstitutional, because it restricted one's freedom. Doctor Hobdy smiled as he said this. A campaign of education was necessary to obtain results. Doctor Hobdy's address, delivered without notes, but given with a startling array of facts and figures, was generously applauded.

Rev. J. W. Rath of the Palama Mission followed with an outline of the plan of campaign to be followed in fighting tuberculosis in Honolulu.

CLEVER ACTORS

Students of Oahu College presented a dramatic program in Charles R. Bishop Hall last evening, and scored a success in two sketches-"The Sleeping Car" and "My Lord in Livery." The students displayed considerable progress over last season's presentations and merited the applause and ripples of laughter which came from the audience. The staging was in good taste, and the young people knew their lines. The hall was filled with friends of the young collegians, who were apparently warm admirers of those in the two casts. The first was a one-scene sketch, showing the interior of a Pullman car, with several sections as sleeping compartments closed and one open, showing the regulation car seats. The comedy revolved around one sweet young lady's nervous endeavors to locate her relatives in the car in which the sleepers were aroused and made caustic comments. The sketch was well developed throughout.

"My Lord in Livery" was present-ed by a larger east and was exceptiongood, Reynold McGrew, as Thirpmire, presenting his part exceed-ingly well. As the season goes on, the young people will undoubtedly give more attention to makeup and charac-ter work, together with a keener analysis of dialect. The sketches and casts last evening were as follows:

MANILAS WITH FRAGRANCE OF BURNING RAGS

All Manila cigars placed on the markets are not the best product of Ma-nila, if some of the Manila newspapers are to be believed. The Philippine papers are up in arms against take Mauila cigars being sold us such on the mainland. The Manila Times says edi-torially on the subject:

Our Poor Cigars in America. After all that was said on the sub-ject and despite the determined effort of the government, a number of shipments of the worst eigars made in the Philippines have been sent to the United States. It is true that the bulk of the eigars that have been shipped have been of the better grades, but it would have been infinitely better for the trade if no poor cigars had been sent. "I was offered 'fine Manila cigars' at San Francisco,' says a well-known resident of this city who has just returned from the United States, "that I blushed for. They were of brands that I never heard of and were would have been infinitely better for worse than unsmokeable. I lit a couple of them and their fragrance was the odor of burning rags. As to taste, stale dried cabbage would have been sweet compared to them. Of course, I told all my friends that they were told all my friends that they were rotten and not to smoke them, and did what I could to put them right as to the many good brands, but it is pretty hard work to beat out a bright burning advertisement like a bad cigar. I'm for the grading and branding system, and I know the brand I would put on those 'fine Manila cigars' that were offered to me in San Francisco. Of course, you could purchase good Manila cigars in San Francisco, as elsowhere, after the Payne bill went into effect, but you could get bad ones, too.'

It is very difficult to understand the mestal makeup of the business man who, for the sake of a few dollars' profit at the moment, is willing to engage in this kind of trade. The proverb about the geome that laid the golden eggs was written for the simplest of minds, and few are capable of encaping its measure.
